Mack Says Democratic Convention Will Go to One or the Other.

New York, Dec. 9.—Norman E. Mack, member of the Democratic National Committee for New York, said today while here, enroute to Washington to attend the meeting of the committee on Thursday, that the national convention would be held either in St. Paul or St. Louis. He said that Denver was not central enough and that Chicago had made no bid for it. He declared that William J. Bryan should be nominated for President and said he had heard many prominent Democrats express preference for former Governor William Douglas of Massachusetts for second place on the ticket.

NEGRO WOMAN GETS DAMAGES

Against City of Jacksonville for Death of Husband by Contact With Loose Live Wire.

(Times-Union.)

Hester Wilder, a colored woman, was yesterday awarded damages in the sum of $5,500 against the city of Jacksonville, the verdict marking the conclusion of an unusually hard-fought suit. The woman is the widow of Benjamin Wilder, who was killed on April 18, 1907, near the corner of Stonewall and Wintea streets, by coming in contact with a live electric light wire, the current in which was supplied from the city plant. The case brought up again memories of the record-breaking hailstorm of April 18, when buildings were badly damaged, boats overturned in the river, windows broken in all sections of the city, and wires beating down everywhere. It was on the fact that the fallen wire was due to no fault of the city that the defense made its hardest fight.

The plaintiff set up that on the day in question, about 7 o'clock p. m., her husband was returning to his home, when, near the corner mentioned above, he came in contact with the wire, receiving an electric shock that resulted in practically instant death. The wire, it was charged, had broken from the pole, in part and hung loosely over a fence and across the pavement on which the deceased was walking when he came in contact with it. She asked damages in the sum of $25,000, claiming damages on all grounds, allowed under the law. The case went to the jury about 5 o'clock, and within less than an hour thereafter they returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff damages in the sum of $5,500.

A GETTYSBURG INCIDENT

How Southern Soldier Cared for Wounded Enemy in the Field.

Athens, Ga., Dec. 10.—The funeral of Mr. Thomas P. Oliver was held this afternoon. The pallbearers were six members of Cobb Delaney Camp, United Confederate Veterans. At the grave the Masons fraternity officiated.

The death of Mr. Oliver recalls one of the most beautiful stories of heroism connected with the great war between the states. He was among the troops who engaged in the battle of Gettysburg, and as he swept forward in one of the charges against the federals he passed a wounded Yankee, who called to him and begged him to place him outside the line of fire. The man had been shot through the thigh and had received what seemed to be a mortal wound.

Mr. Oliver heard the cry of distress, stooped down and drew the wounded man upon his back and crawled with him across the field that was swept with shot and shell, until he reached a place of safety. Then he propped the wounded Yankee against a tree and gave him a canteen of water. The soldier gave Mr. Oliver his gold watch and thanked him for his kindness. Then they parted. A little later the federals retook the position and the wounded man fell into the hands of his own men.

Years passed during which time Dr. J. J. Purman of Washington sought to find the name of the man who had saved his life on the battlefield of Gettysburg. Several years since his patience was rewarded and he often tried to get Mr. Oliver to visit him in Washington. Circumstances prevented several attempts to bring the two together, but last June they met for the first and last time since the incident on the Gettysburg field.

Mr. Oliver went to Richmond to attend the Confederate reunion and then went over to Washington to be the guest of Dr. Purman. It was a most delightful meeting that occurred between these two old veterans of the blue and the gray. Mr. Oliver's visit had been heralded in the Washington papers along with his pictures, and the story of his heroism was known all over Washington long before he arrived. Wherever he went on the streets he was stopped by old soldiers to engage in conversation about this incident. At the pension building he was the center of attraction, the clerks stopping their work to chat with him. Gen. Miles had heard of his being there and came over to pay his respects and to thank him for his valiant act. At the White House he was for several minutes the guest of President Roosevelt, who expressed his appreciation of this act of bravery on the part of one so old.

SENATE AND HOUSE,

Little Business in One and Other Adjourns Till Thursday.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The senate was in session a little more than an hour, and at 1:15 adjourned until tomorrow. A very little business was transacted beyond the introduction of bills. The resolutions of Senators Clay and Culberson calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information concerning the recent bond issues of the government came up and, in the absence of Senator Aldrich, their consideration was postponed until another day. Senator Tillman presented resolutions instructing the committee on finance to investigate the recent bond issues, but the absence of Mr. Aldrich was urged as a reason why they also should not be acted upon today.

A resolution calling upon the secretary of agriculture for information concerning the reclamation of swamp lands in the United States and abroad was adopted.

The house adjourned at 12:10 o'clock until Thursday, without transacting any business beyond the introduction of bills. It was stated authoritatively that the house committees will not be announced this week.

FRINK IS CONVICTED.

Former Railroad Employee Found Guilty of Embezzlement in Tampa.

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 8.—The trial of J. D. Frink, charged with grand embezzlement from the Plant City, Arcadia and Gulf railroad, which has been in progress for four days in the Hillsborough county criminal court, was concluded at 9:30 o'clock last night when the jury brought in a verdict of guilty as charged in the information. The jury was given the case late in the afternoon. Judge Gordon has not yet pronounced sentence. All of yesterday was devoted to arguments by the counsel in the case. County Solicitor George P. Ramey, Jr., Peter O. Knight and Charles C. Whitaker, conducted the prosecution and Messrs John P. Wall and Kenneth J. McKay were counsel for the defendant.

Mr. McKay gave notice of motion for a new trial and Frink is out on bond pending the arguing of the motion.

Criminal Court Proceedings.

The Criminal Court record for the day and last part of yesterday has been the continuation of the Peacock case. The attorneys are fighting every inch of the ground and the testimony was not all in at our press hour this afternoon. There has been a number of witnesses to be examined and cross examined. The case will probably get to the jury tonight or in the morning.

Two Alabama Counties Swear Off. Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 9.—Both Cullman and Walker counties voted for prohibition by large majorities in the election today. Returns tonight indicate that Cullman county's majority will be about 800 for prohibition. The result is considered all the more significant as the county is settled largely by Germans.
